PREPARING FOR GOD'S WORD

PRELUDE
PROCESSIONAL: "Scotland the Brave"(insert)
INTROIT: "Soon Very Soon" (with Sunday School Singers)

CALL TO WORSHIP from "The Scot's Confession" 1560, Chapter One 3.01

Pastor: Come, let us worship our God, whom we confess and acknowledge as one God alone.
People: To whom alone we must cleave, whom alone we must serve, and whom only we must worship.
Pastor: God who is eternal, infinite, immeasurable, omnipotent incomprehensible, one in substance and yet distinct.
People: God in three persons, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, in whom alone we put our trust.
Pastor: By whom we confess and believe all things in heaven and earth, visible and invisible.
People: We confess and acknowledge this God alone. Glory to God's name!

*HYMN #49 "Once in Royal David's City"

PRAYER OF CONFESSION: Responsive
Pastor: God of mercy, God of love, in humbleness of heart we confess our sins. We forget to love and serve you, and wander from your ways. We are careless of your world, and put its life in danger. We talk of our concern for others, but fail to match our words with action.
All: God of the new day and God of love, you created us and you have redeemed us. As you scatter the mist from the hills, banish the deeds of darkness from the sons and daughters of your light. Help us to know and believe that, as the children of your love, we are free to begin again; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE AFFIRMATION OF FAITH
(Selections from "The Scot's Confession" – 1560)

We acknowledge one God alone.

We most surely believe that God preserved, instructed, multiplied, honored, adorned, and called from death to life his Kirk in all ages since Adam until the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh.

We acknowledge and confess that this wonderful union between the Godhead and humanity in Christ Jesus did arise from the eternal and immutable decree of God from which all our salvation springs and depends.

We do not doubt but that the selfsame body which was born of the virgin, was crucified, dead, and buried, and which did rise again, did ascend into the heavens, where he sits at the right hand of God, the only advocate and mediator for us.

We believe that the same Lord Jesus shall visibly return for this Last Judgment as he was seen to ascend. And then we firmly believe, the time of refreshing and restitution of all things shall come.

We confess and acknowledge one God alone, to whom we must cleave, whom we must serve, whom only we must worship, and in whom alone we put our trust.

Give thy servants strength to speak thy Word with boldness, and let all nations cleave to the true knowledge of thee. Amen.

What is a Kirkin' O' the Tartan?

The history - The ceremony of Kirkin' O' the Tartan is of American origin, though based on Scottish history and legend. After Bonnie Prince Charlie's Scottish forces were defeated by the English at the Battle of Culloden in 1746, Scotland once again came under British rule. To control the Scots, an Act was passed that forbade the carrying of arms and the wearing of kilts or tartan which represented Scottish heritage. Orders were given for British troops to kill any person dressed in or displaying the tartan.

As the Legend Goes - This Act prompted the stubborn Scots to secretly carry with them a piece of their tartan as they went to the Kirk. The minister then slipped a blessing (a Kirkin') into the service for the tartans. The prohibition against tartan lasted for nearly 50 years. When at last repealed, the Church of Scotland celebrated with a Service of Family Covenant, at which time the tartan of each family was offered as a covenant expression for the Lord's blessing.

The First Kirkin' - The Saint Andrew's Society of Washington, DC held the first Kirkin' during the early years of World War II. The late Dr. Peter Marshall, an eloquent Scot, then Chaplain of the US Senate as well as a pastor, led the service in 1943, choosing "Kirkin' O' the Tartan" for the title of his sermon. He had preached many sermons in support of the British War Relief and Scottish Clans Evacuation Plan. His Sermons were so popular that a request was made for their publication, with the proceeds designated for war relief programs. As the war continued, the DC St. Andrew's Society continued to hold prayer services for the British subjects. These became known as Kirkin's.

The prickly, purple thistle is the national emblem of Scotland, as well as the flower of Scotland. Ever present in the fields and pastures throughout Scotland, it has been an emblem of the country for centuries. Its first use as a royal symbol was on silver coins issued by King James III in 1740. The Order of the Thistle was founded by James VII in 1687 while seated on the throne of both Scotland and England. In the special language of heraldry, Scotland's national badge is "the thistle, slipped and leaved proper."

Although not as old an insignia as the saltire – the Saint Andrews Cross, the oldest flag of any country – it nevertheless well represents the Scottish peoples and their history – like a "lion with its claws out." In the plant world, the thistle has no enemies because of its own vicious spines that cover it like armor plating.

Most stories of how the thistle became Scotland's symbol point to the events surrounding a battle in 1263 fought against Norway. It is often forgotten that for more than 600 years most of Scotland was a part of that nation. Norse warriors attacked with large force, and at some point during the campaign tried to surprise the Scots with a night attack. They removed their footwear for a silent approach, but found themselves on ground covered thistle.

It is said their leader stepped on thistle and cried out. His shout warned the Scots, who then put an end to them, thus saving Scotland. The role of the thistle was then understood, and was chosen as Scotland's symbol, with the motto Nemo me impune lacessit (No-one harms me without punishment) … More commonly translated as Wha daurs medlle wi me.

From the Minds of Scots

There have been more inventions from the Scots, per capita, than any other country in the world, including:

- Alexander Fleming discovered penicillin
- Kirkpatrick MacMillian invented the bicycle
- John Chalmers invented the adhesive postage stamp
- James Watt invented the modern steam engine
- William Morton, a dentist, pioneered the use of anesthesia
- John Paul Jones founded the US Navy
- James Simpson discovered and used chloroform
- John Boyd Dunlop patented the pneumatic tire
- Charles MacIntosh patented the raincoat
- Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone
- John Williams developed the smallpox vaccine
- Robert Watson-Watt developed RADAR

NOVEMBER 29, 2026… … During the musical prelude we ask that you prepare for worship by quiet prayer and reflection. If you are visiting our virtual worship service, we extend a special welcome. Chancel flowers are a great opportunity to honor, or remember loved ones and to celebrate special occasions. If you like to sign up, the flower chart is located in the office hallway or call the church office to make arrangements. Welcome Packets can be found at either door and are available for visitors, also available to take and share with your neighbors or anyone else, so as to introduce them to the church. Please feel free to visit our website www.oysterbaypresbyterian.org, or call the church office if you have any questions.

OUR SPECIAL MINISTRY OF PRAYER ... Please keep the following people in your prayers: Ed, Mitch, Sylvie, Darrell, Jen, Cindy, Charlie and all those suffering from cancer, special prayers for those suffering from the wars in Ukraine, the Mideast, and other areas where conflict reigns, for the veterans and military personnel returning from service wounded in body, mind or spirit, and all those going through difficult times.

THE CHANCEL FLOWERS … are given to the glory of God.
